

Thank you for telling your colleagues about IFM's next AFMCP to be held in Portland, Oregon, September 27th-October 1st, 2010

To show our appreciation for spreading the word about functional medicine, we've created a Tell-A-Colleague program.

Here's how it works:

- For every colleague you refer to AFMCP who has never attended the 5-day course, you will receive $500, payable after the event, by check or credit card refund, or you may leave on your IFM account as a credit toward future IFM programs, publications, and memberships.
- Even if you can't attend yourself, you can still receive a $500 promotional credit if your colleague(s) come to the AFMCP course.
- To qualify for this program: The colleague(s) you refer must not have attended previous AFMCP courses. We must be notified of the referral at the time your colleague(s) registers for the course.

Send your colleagues to our Web site to view the AFMCP schedule and to register at www.functionalmedicine.org

Ask them to click on 'Colleague Referral' and list your name in details box.
You or your colleagues can also call Katie Stephens, IFM Client Services Specialist at 1.800.228.0622
to ensure you receive your Tell-A-Colleague credit.

*Fine print: This credit cannot be applied to your current registration for AFMCP. You will receive the $500 check/credit card refund after the event. There are a limited number of TAC credits available for this course so be the first to refer your friends.

Hope to see you and your Colleagues at AFMCP!
